

Lifesaver

Equipment: Foam tubes for tagging
Gator balls

Game: Players holding the foam tubes are “it” until the leader selects new taggers. Upon being tagged with the foam tubes, the player kneels down on one knee and yells, “Lifesaver, lifesaver”. The teacher tosses the tagged player a ball. That student can stand up and throw the ball to someone else who needs a lifejacket. The person with the lifesaver may not move. They may only toss the lifesaver. After saving a person, the tagged person is back in the game. If a ball is passed to a player and is not caught, the closest kneeling player may just go get the ball and save someone.
